

FAQ's for workshop 'Finding Your Own Voice As a Singer'

How can I reach the Akoesticum?

Akoesticum is easy to reach by car as well as public transportation. The building is right next to station Ede-Wageningen. A travel itinerary can be found here.

Can I park near to Akoesticum?

There is a free parking right behind the building.

Can I bring my own accompanist?

Yes, you can bring my own accompanist. However the workshop is focused on singers so he/she doesn't have to accompany you. The accompanist has to register himself.

Can I bring my own lunch?

A tasty lunch at Akoesticum is included in the package. You cannot bring your own food or beverages to the Akoesticum.

Is this workshop for all levels?

The group will be divided into two smaller groups based on years of singing experience. One group will consist of singers that have no more than 2 years of singing experience. The other group will be for singers who have 2+ years of singing experience. This is a rule of the thumb so of course there are exceptions. To discuss your level further, please contact us on:

Can I bring my own repertoire?

We are working with two songs from Lucy's repertoire so at this time, we won't be working on other material.

Am I able to have a private/individual lesson from Lucy?

Yes. It is possible to have an individual lesson from Lucy in either Den Haag or Ede. She can also come to you. Please contact us for availability and price on info@worldtownmusic.nl
